BREEDING ADVICE

Advice to Breeders in relation to the contract of breeding Stallions and Mares.

In relation to the process of having a mare covered; the following pieces of advice are useful items to consider.

1. Once a suitable stallion has been chosen, the mare owner shall agree the covering fee for the service. Any additional costs to be incurred (i.e. keep, veterinary fees) shall also be agreed in advance with the stallion owner in a written contract.
2. Important dates shall be included in the contract. Of particular importance are the covering dates and the payment dates for covering and feeding fees.
3. Mare owners shall ensure that they receive the mare owners 'Record of Service' of the covering from the stallion owner.
4. All payments shall be documented and recorded. The mare owner shall ensure that they use a payment option which provides a receipt, and the receipt shall include the total payment and the breakdown of the items that make up the total amount.
5. The contract shall specify what shall happen if the mare does not go in foal (i.e. free return, return of fees, etc.,).
